Workshop information

Workshop 1: The dyslexia-friendly school

There is strong evidence that using multi-sensory teaching methods which include visual, verbal and kinaesthetic, as well as text based methods, remove barriers to learning and give curriculum access to a wider group of learners. How dyslexia friendly is your school?

Workshop 2: How can governors monitor SEND provision?

Understand what SEND really is, understand the responsibilities of a SEND governor, how to hold the Headteacher to account and understand how and what to report to the governing board

Workshop 3: Effective practice in Halton

Hear case studies from schools in the Borough of Halton who have been able to adapt their provision to ensure inclusion of pupils with SEND.
